ROOSEVELT'S RECORD ON UNIONISM IS SEARCHED BY POLITICIAN

Finds That Laws of Country
Were Placed Above Union Rules.

"MILLER" INCIDENT

As President He Refused to Discharge Pressman at Demand of Gompers.

NEW YORK, Oct. 30.—Secretary John Mason of the State Democratic committee today made public a statement attacking Theodore Roosevelt's labor record. He says in part:

"The Democratic state committee has been looking up Colonel Roosevelt's labor record, one of the most striking incidents in which the former President clashed with union labor was recalled yesterday. When the Bookbinders Union demanded that William A. Miller be removed from his position as assistant foreman of the government printing office in Washington, after having been reinstated by order of the President, the latter laid down the following rule:

"There is no objection to employees of the government printing office constituting themselves into a body if they so desire, but no rules or regulations of that union can be permitted to ride over the laws of the United States which it may be my duty to enforce."

"Miller had been expelled from the union and appealed to the Civil Service Commission, which sustained him. When the public printer did not reinstate Miller, President Roosevelt finally ordered him to go.

NO DISCRIMINATION.

"On the same day, Colonel Roosevelt had written to the Secretary of Commerce and Labor approving of the decision of the real strike committee that no person should be discriminated against on account of non-membership in a union organization.

"The action of President Roosevelt brought on a storm in labor circles and there was talk of a strike, but Secretary Cortelyou stepped into the breach and shifted the responsibility from President Roosevelt to Public Printer Palmer.

"The officers of the Bookbinders' Union attempted to secure an interview with the Civil Service Commissioners and asked leave to file a copy of the charges against Miller, but the commissioners referred everything to Public Printer Palmer and added that any person who went out on strike would be forced to take a new civil service examination before being taken back. This threat sufficed to prevent a strike.

ROOSEVELT'S ORDER.

"Going to the rumor that Colonel Roosevelt had ordered an investigation to find out whether any non-union man had been denied work in any of the departments, it was discovered that the following letter, marked personally, had been sent to all cabinet ministers:

"My Dear Sirs.—The President directs me to send you copies of the two letters sent to Secretary Cortelyou with reference to the government's printing office, which detailed the attitude of the administration in connection with the question discussed. They are sent you for your information and guidance as they indicate the policy of the President in this matter."

Very truly yours,
B. F. BARNES.

Acting Secretary to the President.

"With a companion of the Bookbinders' Union, I visited the Secretary of State on August 27, 1904, and filed with him copies of all the evidence in their charges against Miller. He replied that it was up to the President. No action being reported, the Central Labor Union of Washington contacted all labor organizations in the United States to unite in a petition to have Miller dismissed. This action was immediately endorsed by the Central Federated Union. The resolutions were circulated among 2,500 union laborers throughout the country. Charles W. Winslow reported that a large proportion had requested the President to resign his decision.

"A conference was held with the President of the White House on September 20, 1904, which was attended by Samuel Gompers, President of the American Federation of Labor; James L. O'Neil, first vice-president; John Mitchell, president of the United Mine Workers; James O'Connell, president of the Machinists' Union, and Frank Marshall, secretary of the Federation.

"But President Roosevelt refused to order Miller's dismissal on either charge of being unfit or a non-union man."

RECORD OF ARTILLERY
PRACTICE IN FLEET

WASHINGTON, Oct. 30.—One of Uncle Sam's newest dreadnaughts, the Delaware, led the sixteen battleships from the Atlantic fleet in gunnery efficiency during the annual battle practice off the Virginia coast last September.

The trophy winner last year, the Vermont, is third in the standing. The Delaware's sister ship, the North Dakota, finished sixth, which is considered by naval officials as a splendid record for a ship that had met with a serious accident just prior to the practice.

Lieutenant Comma, Jr., is the overall gunnery expert of the fleet.

He was an ordnance officer on the Delaware during the recent practice and served in a similar capacity on the Vermont when she won the trophy last year.

GO INSANE WHILE UNSEALING TOMB OF KORESHAN MESSIAH

BROOKLYN, Oct. 30.—Colonel S. C. Lee, who became one of the body of Dr. Legg's, was announced before his death at 3:45 a.m. that he would rise from his tomb and become the Messiah of the Koreshans, one of the cults, according to Henry D. Silverfriend, attempting to unseal his tomb, but before this was accomplished both were deprived of their reason and died before they could be removed to an asylum.

Silverfriend is prominent in the Koreshan colony in Estero, Fla. He said today that Dr. Lee had not yet arisen, but seemed to be in a condition that he would come forth as the Messiah in due time. The Bristol Koreshan colony was abandoned shortly after Dr. Lee's death.

EXPRESS STRIKE MAY BE SPREAD

Organization Is to Be Attempted Throughout the Country.

NEW YORK, Oct. 30.—That the striking express drivers and helpers intend to continue the fight here with vigor and that if necessary it will be extended throughout the country, it was declared today by Vice-President Hoffman of the International Brotherhood of Teamsters. Hoffman said that all drivers and helpers of the express companies in Brooklyn and also those of the smaller express companies in Manhattan would be ordered out tomorrow. The strike, he declared, would increase the number of men on strike from 3,000 to 5,000.

Hoffman added that he had received a letter from the national president of the International Brotherhood of Teamsters informing him that word had been sent to all the organizations of the Brotherhood throughout the country telling them to organize the drivers and helpers and strikers of the express companies so that they could all be called out if necessary.

As yet no demands have been submitted to the express companies. This will be done some time this week.

At a meeting of the strikers today a tentative list of grievances was drawn up.

It included a demand for an eleven-hour day with one hour for luncheon; an increase of 15¢ a month for all men who are now receiving $15 a month or less.

EX-PREMIER FRANCO IS ARRESTED IN PORTUGAL.

Rumor That a Military Plot
Has Been Found and Quelled.

MADRID, Oct. 30.—A special dispatch from Lisbon to the Correspondencia de Espana says that a military conspiracy against the republic has been unearthed and that thirty-two officers have been arrested.

LISBON, Oct. 30.—Senior Franco, ex-president of Portugal, who held office when King Carlos and Crown Prince Louis were assassinated in 1908, has been arrested on the charge of plots of high treason during the reign of King Carlos.

It is declared by the government that it did not insure the arrest of Franco, but that it was the result of an investigation held by the judiciary.

The ex-president has been released on bail.

Franco's bail was fixed at $2,000.

The charges against him include the issuance of seventy illegal decrees and the liquidation of King Carlos' debts amounting to $150,000, with claims on the pretext of augmenting the civil list.

The government has approved a decree granting the right to strike and has named a commission of arbitration to take labor disputes under advisement.

Pale green and bright red have been adopted as the colors of the national flag.

HACKENSACK, N. J., Oct. 30.—The Ministerial Association of Hackensack adopted resolutions today condemning Wilbur and Orville Wright for refusing to allow their employees to fly their machines on Sunday.

KILLED BABY BECAUSE IT CRIED TOO MUCH

PARIS, Oct. 30.—An extraordinary crime was committed in a country place not far from here by a small boy, 5 years of age, who killed his baby brother, only ten months old, because he said the baby cried too much. The two children were in a farmhouse while the father was working in the stable. The mother was away, but went back to drink. The boy was in another room with the baby. A neighbor came to pass when the boy ran out to him and said, "I think the baby is dead." When the neighbor entered he found the child dead in the cradle, with the skull smashed, and about twenty knife cuts.

The boy first said that the baby had fallen and struck his head against a wall, but when closely questioned he admitted that he had killed his little brother. He was trying to sleep, he said, when the baby started to cry. He was unable to quiet it, and then he got angry and struck it on the head with a hammer. But, he was asked, who cut it with a knife in the face and all over the body? The boy also admitted he had done this. He had taken a knife from the table and had stabbed the baby after hitting it with a hatchet.

BERKELEY, Oct. 30.—In a fire that for a time threatened the entire institution, the mechanical building of the California State Deaf and Dumb Asylum was destroyed tonight. The loss is estimated at $8,000.

LARGEST GATES IN WORLD BUILDING FOR PANAMA

Enormous Ramparts of Steel Will Require Three Years in Building.

THOUSANDS OF PIECES

Cost of the Gates for Locks at the Isthmus of Panama $5,500,000.

PITTSBURG, Oct. 30.—The largest gates in the world are being made in Pittsburgh for the Panama Canal. Each of the ninety-two of them will be about as high as a six-story building, 65 feet wide and seven feet thick. The structural steel that will go to make them will weigh 60,000 tons, or more than eight times as much as was used to build the Eiffel tower.

The mighty portals, designed to admit a world's commerce from one ocean to another, must withstand a tide of criticism as well as a tremendous pressure of water and possible convulsions of earth. For years the controversy of gates or no gates, locks or sea level, has been the dividing issue of the canal problem. In the face of fear, in some quarters, that the foundations on the Isthmus are not sure enough for locks, that earthquakes or water pressure would dislodge them, and that an enemy's mine of accidental explosion might easily destroy them, the government has begun to build the gates.

The cost will be $5,500,000. The builders are the McColloch, Marshall Steel Construction Company, a half of whose independent plant has been given over to the gate contract, or the International Brotherhood of Teamsters, informing him that word had been sent to all the organizations of the Brotherhood throughout the country to organize the drivers and helpers and strikers of the express companies so that they could all be called out if necessary.

As yet no demands have been submitted to the express companies. This will be done some time this week.

REV. GOULD RESIGNS AS CHURCH PASTOR

Action Effective on First of Year; Reasons Not Clearly Given.

Dissension Admitted in Management of Church; No Successor Chosen.

Rev. Benjamin Gould, pastor of the First Congregational Church of this city, accepted yesterday his resignation as pastor of the church. He did not set any definite time limit, but Charles H. Bernard, one of the trustees of the church, stated that at a meeting held after the announcement of Gould's resignation, the trustees determined that the action would be effective on the first of January.

Rev. Gould would make no further statements as to the reasons for his resignation than those of faith in a recent statement he had made to his congregation at the time of announcing that he tendered his resignation. He does not give any specific reasons in this statement, merely intimating that a strained situation exists in the management of the church, and that it has become too strained to be tolerated.

Mr. Bernard said last evening he would not care to go into the reasons for the resignation, but that it came as a distinct surprise, and an unpleasant one to the majority of the congregation, who have been hearty in their support of Mr. Gould. He said that the reason hinged somewhat on the new building with which the church congregation proposes to erect, and the whole trouble originally came from an influential member of the body. He declared the trouble was not of a financial nature. He also hinted that the trouble was a dissension that did not affect a large body of the congregation.

Rev. Gould stated that he did not know where he would go from his position here.

The building project of the church, which is expected to culminate in the erection of a new and more home for the members, is unaffected by the resignation. It is stated.

The trustees have not yet determined on a man to fill the place that will fall vacant after the first of the year. Action on this score was postponed at yesterday's meeting until some later date.

Rev. Gould's statement, read to the congregation, was as follows:

"I am in state today one of the hardest things ever yet to be said. Will you forgive me, therefore, if I say it in few words, and if those words seem, perhaps, somewhat constrained.

"Today I complete two years' pastoral work in your midst. Next Saturday will be the second anniversary of my formal acceptance of the pastorate of the church. They have been years of ceaseless contention with difficulties always and something with high hopes. And yet those years have marked some definite progress and development in our church life and work. For some months past now it has seemed as though a bright day were about to dawn for Congregationalism in Fresno. Our building project so long a nebulous and undetermined thing, has at last taken shape, and the church has now a definite policy before it.

"It has been throughout my earnest desire to see that hope realized, and then to relinquish my pastoral work in Fresno. Circumstances, however, have arisen which compel me to take an immediate and decisive step. I wish to place before you here my resignation as your pastor, and to ask your permission to relinquish my work in the near future. A step so definite demands equally definite reasons. Yet, though the reasons are clearly defined in my own mind, I find them somewhat hard to state. From the beginning, difficulties have been present in connection with the official work of the church, and, though these difficulties have become acute. After very careful consideration, I have come to the conclusion that my resignation is the only possible course to take. There are moments when one's self-respect is of pre-eminent value.

"In accordance with the terms of agreement under which I entered upon my pastorate here, my work will conclude on the last Sunday of the present year. That is a question, however, to be decided by the trustees and church in conference. I am willing to stay for that length of time, or to relinquish it at any earlier date you may think best.

"I regret that this resignation has not first been referred to the trustees. That is the proper course, I am well aware. But there seemed no immediate prospect of a meeting of the board being held and a tense situation prolonged became intolerable."

A meeting for the consideration of the resignation was at once called with W. A. Conn in charge.

CITY MARKET IN HAY IS DECIDEDLY DULL

Demand Has Been Small Except From Shipping End of Business.

The Hay Association is gathering statistics of the total quantity of hay on hand in the territory, to the San Francisco market, and as it is generally known that the hay on hand at this time must necessarily be large, the effect on market conditions cannot be expected to be favorable.

According to the market report of Scott, Wagner & Miller, the market opens in San Francisco for the last six days were 4300 tons, which is probably the same average quantity as received for weeks.

The report notes that a decided dullness prevails in the market, which is already accounted for and to be expected under present conditions, as trade, generally, is decidedly quiet, and there has been very little demand from any source, except from the shipping end of the business.

A little hayyay will bring the topmost quotation of $12.50 to $13 a ton, but there has been so little of this hay available that practically no arrivals have consisted of No. 1 and the medium grades of hay, which have been slow to move, and will not sell at enough to cover the extra cost of warehousing. All hay has been shipped to, is being taken from under cover, and under normal conditions is always expected to bear the additional expense which accrues on warehousing.

"There has practically been no purchasing in the interior recently, and while any hay has changed hands, it has been in very small quantities, and for immediate shipment.

Affairs have continued to maintain the position in the market that it has been in for weeks, with no changes to note. The demand for this article has been exceptionally good.

Straw is dull and neglected, with the lightest kind of demand under present conditions.

LIFE SAVING SERVICE TO SANTA FE EXPECTS BIG WINTER TRAVEL

RESCUE MINERS IN DISASTERS

First Important Step Taken

By the New Bureau of Mines.

RESCUE WORK THE EMERGENCY FEATURE OF AN EDUCATIONAL CAMPAIGN.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Oct. 29.—A life saving service for the rescue of miners in time of disaster is about to be incorporated by the United States Bureau of Mines, Department of the Interior. Six specially constructed cars, manned by a corps of miners trained in rescue work and equipped with the latest rescue apparatus, will start to the injured miners, within a few days, to be located in the midst of the great coal districts in different parts of the country.

These cars will be ready at a moment's notice to proceed to the scene of a disaster, where the rescue corps, in cooperation with the state mining authorities, will do everything possible to save uninjured miners. This is the first important step taken by the new Bureau of Mines in its efforts to reduce the loss of life in American coal mines.

During the year 1909, there were 142 miners killed in the coal mines, and 756 injured. In the coal and the tin mines, it is estimated that 300 men were killed and 10,000 were injured in 1909. For every 1000 men employed, from three to five men are killed each year in the mining of the United States. In foreign countries from one to two are killed in every 1000 employed.

In these European countries where the death rate is least per 1000 men employed, rescue apparatus has been in use for some time, and it is with the hope that European conditions will be improved that the rescue apparatus is being introduced here.

The saving of human life will be the emergency feature of a general campaign of educational work among the miners, who will not only be taught the use of the rescue apparatus, but also the proper way to take care of an injured miner. This will also be lectures on many phases of the mining problem looking toward greater safety.

There will be little excuse for the miner not benefiting himself for the mine rescue cars will go to the miner to his own town or camp. Each car has been given a specified territory and it is expected that every mining community of any importance will be visited.

A mining engineer and a surgeon of the American Red Cross will accompany each car and deliver illustrated lectures on the use of explosives, electrical equipment, fire prevention, sanitation and first aid surgical treatment.

These lectures will be given in the cars wherever a suitable meeting place can not be procured. The cars will remain long enough at each camp so that miners may go through the training in rescue work, which will be in charge of the foreman of the car, a certified mining engineer. Every effort will be made to encourage the miners to form rescue corps at the mines where they are employed and to have the operators train them with rescue apparatus.

The cars will contain eight self-contained oxygen helmets, a supply of oxygen in tanks, one dozen safety lamps, one field telephone with 100 feet of wire, resuscitating outfit and a small outfit for use in demonstrating and actual practice of equipment relating to first-aid-to-the-injured in connection with mine accidents. One end of the car will be fitted up as an air tight room to be used in training the men in the use of the so-called oxygen helmets. This room will be oxygenated with noxious fumes, and the miners, wearing the helmets, will remain inside for two hours in an atmosphere that would kill without the helmets. These are the helmets that miners must use to enter a mine immediately following an explosion while it is still filled with noxious gases and breathing artificially.

The absence of the helmets at great enterprises in the United States has, it is believed, resulted in a greater loss of life than necessary. Frequently miners who have not suffered physical injury to an explosion have been compelled to mine to die slowly from the inhalation of the noxious gases.

It is now possible to teach these men in a few hours, their lives might have been saved. The helmets proved their worth at the "fabled" Cherry mine when the rescuers succeeded in bringing twenty men out alive after they had been entombed seven days in a member of other instances, miners have been saved from terrible deaths by the prompt arrival of the injured rescuers.

Dr. Nell, which will be in charge of Charles P. Nell, mining engineer, will play Pittsburgh, Pa., on the morning of October 31 for Monongahela City, Pa., where the first demonstration and lecture will be given. This car will then visit Marietta, Brownsville, Uniontown, Connellsville, South Park, Portage, Clearfield, Pennsylvania, and State College.

On Nov. 2 it is expected to reach the Bureau of Mines' reservation at Urbana, Ill., November 3rd, where it will be fully equipped with rescue apparatus and other equipment and placed in charge of R. V. Williams, mining engineer, as lecturer, and J. M. Webb as trainer in rescue work. Dr. J. M. Shultz, of the American Red Cross Society, will be present and there will be a miner skilled in hospital corps work and first aid to the injured. After remaining in Urbana for several days, the car will proceed to DuBois, Pa., Tercia, Haute, Ind., and on through Southern Indiana to Evansville. Lectures and demonstrations will be given at each stopping place. The car will stop a few days or a week at each mining town, where the miners will be trained without cost in rescue work. The men who take the full course of instruction in mine rescue and first aid will be given certificates of competency. A record will be kept of these men as being available for emergency calls in the event of disaster.

Four other cars similarly equipped will be ready for delivery within a few days. They will make their headquarters at Parkersburg, W. Va., Billings, Mont., Salt Lake City, Utah, and Knoxville, Tenn. These cars will travel through the mining territory in their districts, mining engineers giving lectures on greater safety in mining, the Red Cross representatives giving demonstrations in first aid to the injured, and the rescue corps men training the miners in the use of the oxygen helmets.

Four other cars similarly equipped will be ready for delivery within a few days. They will make their headquarters at Parkersburg, W. Va., Billings, Mont., Salt Lake City, Utah, and Knoxville, Tenn. CONSTITUTIONS

It is evident from the reports of the proceedings of the constitutional convention at Phoenix, that the Arizona leaders have concluded to take the advice of President Taft, at least in part, and not make their new constitution an experimental lesson in politics' innovations. While the document is to be distinctly Progressive, thus reflecting the spirit of the West in general, rather than that of any particular political party, it will leave the working out of individual ideas of reform to the proper place, the halls of the state legislature. The constitution will be reserved for the great fundamentals upon which the foundations of the new state must rest.

It has been the good fortune of the United States to have a constitution which is so short that any student may easily familiarize himself with the whole of it. Nearly everything is easily understandable, even in the light of over a century of judicial interpretations which might easily have befogged it for the minds of the plain people.

On the other hand, California has a constitution which it would take a Philadelphia lawyer to work with. Certainly there have been enough California lawyers who have shown that they don't understand it, and the courts do not seem to have maintained a continuous understanding of it for any length of time.

Arizona will do well to have a brief constitution. It will also do well to look carefully to the men it sends to the legislature to pass its main body of laws.

"STRAIGHT TICKETS"

Republican papers all over the state are copying an editorial from the Fresno Republican, which the young man about to cast his first ballot is prompted with to vote the entire Republican ticket because Hiram W. Johnson happens to lead it.—Sacramento Bee.

There was no such editorial in the Republican. What the Republican advised young men to do was to ally themselves with the Progressive Republican movement. That does not mean that they are to "vote the ticket straight," unless they think it is a straight ticket. The Republican does not stand, and never did stand, for the "straight ticket" fallacy. It believes in party principles and party government, but it believes the best way to serve these ends is by independent voting. From the very beginning of this campaign, the Republican has combated the argument of the San Francisco Call and others, that the direct primary imposes the obligation of voting the straight ticket on all who took part in the primary. If that were the obligation, it would be sufficient reason for repealing the primary law; for the right of independent voting is more important than the right of direct nominations.

There is an obligation to "support the ticket straight," but it is a limited obligation, resting only on certain persons. These are the official managers of the party campaigns—the executive and campaign committees of the parties. These men are acting not in a personal but in a representative capacity, and are therefore deprived of the liberty which belongs to other American citizens. What they do with their private votes is a matter of their own consciences. But in their public activities, as the delegated representatives of the party, to do the work assigned to them, they must take the ticket as the party gives it to them, or resign their places. This is simply a matter of good faith, on the part of an agent carrying out the instruction of his principal.

But all other persons may and ought to "scratch" their tickets whenever in their judgment certain men on it ought not to be elected.

This is and always has been the Republican's position, and nothing inconsistent with it has appeared in these columns.

The very natural self interest of men, whatever their station in life, will work to prevent the success of any attempt to spread the present express men's strike from New York to other parts of the country. It is naively stated, on behalf of the leader of the strikers there, that organizers are too hastily ordered to unionize all express employees in distant parts of the union in order that they may be called out in aid of the strike.

It is very doubtful whether the prospect of being called out at once on a strike will impel very many workers to join the union. The thought will naturally occur to them that if the union were worthy of joining at all, it was before the clouds of war had darkened. Then, having enjoyed its benefits in peace, they could with more cheerful heart have joined in a sympathetic strike.

Every walk of life, from the highest to the lowest, shows a power of adapting to conditions. Thus a vagrant was recently stowed away on board of a German passenger dirigible balloon.

FOREST'S GREAT POPULATION FOR THE UNITED STATES

DETROIT, Mich., Oct. 30.—Speaking before the convention of the Michigan State Teachers Association yesterday, Rev. Newell Dwight Hillis of New York predicted that within 26 years, half the human race will occupy the United States. We may as well believe the population would be 1,700,000,000 and that the reason for our having such hope is the fact that we have got so much land to give them.

INCURABLE CASE

(PATIENT 6 YEARS OLD.)

Authorities declare kidney disease incurable after the sixth month. This was the situation up to the working out of the new endowment treatment—the only thing known that dries up the kidneys in time to cure chronic kidney disease.
Every case presented has been declared incurable by physicians and in some cases four to six have joined in the fatal diagnosis.

Case of a 6-year-old boy of A. C.
Lynn, No. 1726 16th avenue, Oakland, had symptoms of chronic kidney disease.
The family physician told the distressed father that death was inevitable. At that late moment he heard about the endowment treatment. This was a very slow case due to general contingencies. It took nearly a year to recover the lad. He is now going to school.

Richard Leek of Calvert & Leek of Ogden, Utah, reports the recovery of his 17-year-old son, whom the doctor had also given up. He also is now going to school.

Fulton's Renal Compound, the first successful treatment for chronic kidney disease can only be had in your city or

TOMORROW'S GAMES.

Portland at Vernon. Oakland at San Francisco. Los Angeles at Sacramento.

SACRAMENTO, Oct. 30.—Brigham Fielder, the Seabuster, pitched Larry Pape to a standstill in a 14-inning battle this afternoon. San Francisco won 4 to 3. The game was filled with spectacular plays, Boardman and Tennant making unassisted doubles, while the fielding was marvelous in spite of a high wire. Sacramento tied the score in the eighth inning on errors by Tenant and Mohler, coupled with La Longe's double and Pape's single. In the fourteenth Shaw beat out a bunt and went to third on a single by McArde. McArde drove a fly to Perry in left who, by a quick return to the plate, fielded and threw to third. Bodie knocked a long fly to left field. Bodie made a running catch and holding Shaw at third. He then pegged to the plate and the ball took a band bound when La Longe, Shaw endeavored to sweep the globe, Shaw reaching home in one he has mapped out in order to prove to the public his own theory.

The Nelson demonstration is bound to be interesting. Popular or the reverse, as the case has been at various times during his career, the Dane has always put up a slabmang bout of a style that is peculiarly his own, and he has always played to packed houses.

When he fought Wolgast at Rich mond, there were few to support the Dane. It was seen early in their long-distance bout, however, that Nelson was not the Nelson of old, that something was lacking. Lacking in his former judgment and having only his bodily determination, Nelson was beaten down, but lasted until referee Eddie Smith, out of sympathy for the champion, stopped the fight. Possibly Nelson might have stayed the full limit or forty-five rounds, but, more likely, he would have been severely injured. It was conceded with one accord that Nelson had gone back. At all events, he rested for many months and only came out of his retirement when he boxed and won from Monte Dene in Kansas City a few weeks ago in four rounds. That match terminated after Dale broke his hand, but the critics who were on hand proclaimed the news that Nelson was still in form.

Nelson has yet, however, to satisfy the pugilistic followers of the Pacific coast. That is one reason for the making of his match with La Grave.

BAT NELSON TO TRY TO "COME BACK" TONIGHT

Durable Dane Hopes to Do Better Than Jim Jeffries Did at Reno.

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 30.—Battling Nelson will eschew the task of "coming back" tomorrow night when he meets Antone La Grave in a fifteen-round bout. The Dane does not put his coming efforts in those words. Persisting that he was never worse than a fighter gone stale, and that he proved it at Kansas City, he declares that his campaign is on, he has mapped out in order to prove to the public his own theory.

BALLS AND STRIKES.

According to the Portland papers, Judge McCredie is considering Spider Baum and Cliff Blankenship among others for the management of the Portland Northwest League club. McCredie has a fine chance to get Baum away from the Senators.

Fred Mitchell Walker got into the limelight again yesterday, although the accident was one of those that will happen. Once more wearing a Vernon uniform, he set out to practice. Walker was battling flies to the outfit and his catcher Hasty was battling to the pitch. Mitchell missed a ball and his bat hit Hasty on the head. The youngster had to be carried to the clubhouse, where he was given attention by Trainer Carroll.

According to a Brawley paper, there will be no professional ball in the Imperial Valley this winter. If that is so, Tommy Tennant, instead of managing the Brawley team, will probably play first base with Kit Bradbear's Vernon team in the Mid-West League of Southern California. The League will use the Sunland grounds for Saturday and Sunday games, as the Los Angeles diamond is to be sold soon. The Leland Giants, a colored team, Vernon, captained by Kitty Bradbear, Tosen's team, known as the McCormicks, and San Diego will comprise the league.

Hugh Jenkins, manager of the Detroit team, will manufacture and sell automobiles during the winter months.

SOME DOUBT ABOUT SALE OF JACK ATKIN.

There appears to be some doubt about the sale of Jack Atkin. The arrangement was that Percy Rose, a Virginia, was to pay $22,000 for the horse, if he was declared constitutionally sound by the veterinarian appointed to examine him. The report that Atkin of Denver, was the prospective buyer was pure guesswork. If Rose should secure Jack Atkin he will be used for the purpose of breeding horses and steeplechase horses.

ATTRACtIONS BILLED AT BARTON THIS WEEK WILL CATER TO VARIED THEATRICAL TASTES

THE CUDDLE SONG IN THE "THREE TWINS," THE ATTRACTION AT THE BARTON OPERA HOUSE TONIGHT.

The "Three Twins" will be the attraction at the Barton tonight. It has many song hits, the "Yankee Yame Mar," and "The Cuddle Song" being the most prominent. The latter with its tableau showing the seven stages of coining is without doubt, the most pathetic stage picture ever produced concluding with an arm swing weighing 4,000 pounds and illuminated with 2,000 electric lights showing six beautiful girls in the blocks and presenting a gorgeous spectacle. Good seats may be secured by telephone or call at the box office, where today, seats ordered and held in the box office will be retained six hours.

"Going Some"

"Going Some" by Paul Armstrong and Roy Heath, will be the appealing attraction at the Barton on Thursday night. Thus, the calendar of all the recent comedy attractions, has ended several seasons of untroubled success to the last and in the present company's tour of the West the success has been duplicated.

"Going Some" is a story of ranch life in New Mexico, into the atmosphere of which is brought a bevy of pretty girls and a suitable complement of college men to participate in the funmaking with the inhabitants of the borderland. A series of seemingly funny situations are worked up around a formula for a photograph and the cleverness of these situations give flavor to a touching story which has not been equaled these many years.

Lawrence and Sandusky have supplied an exceptionally company in the interpretation of the Roth-Armstrong masterpiece and have so provided an array of elaborate scenic features.

"Going Some" will be presented at De Forest, Wis.—"After an operation four years ago I had pains downward in both sides, backache, and a weakness. The doctor wanted me to have another operation. I took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and I am entirely cured of my troubles."—Mrs. ANOTERIE VESPERMANN, De Forest, Wisconsin.

Another Operation Avoided.

New Orleans, La.—"For years I suffered from severe female troubles. Finally I was confined to my bed and the doctors said an operation was necessary. I gave Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound a trial first, and was saved from an operation."—Mrs. LILY PETROZ, 1111 Kerlerec St., New Orleans, La.

Thirty years of unparalled success confirms the power of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound to cure female diseases. The great volume of unsolicited testimony constantly pouring in proves conclusively that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is a remarkable remedy for those distressing feminine ills from which so many women suffer.

The show by the arrangement of Shakespearean scenes.

Philip Carr of the Shakespeare Memorial National Theater Committee, has this part of the pageant in hand. He has prepared for 500 mounted characters, illustrative of five historical events associated with the city. The will have numerous participants in the part of the pageant.

Such a scene is a trial to the composure of the visiting onlooker, for, however well suited in theatrical clothes look in stage lights and distract, does not give them the air of convincing reality. Therefore, the Lord Mayor's cut coachman remained the chief attraction until the Guy Scouts came into being. Last year Sir Francis Vane led them. This year their leader will be General Sir Robert Baden Powell himself. They will be backed by representatives of the volunteer forces of the city.

ACTIVE PREPARATIONS BUSY CLOSING WEEK FOR THE DEMOCRATS

Cowell and Cartwright Will Speak at the Barton on Wednesday.

Big Meeting to Be Addressed by Him in Coalinga on Wednesday.

Needham and Chas. Wheeler Speakers at the Barton on Saturday.

The closing week of the campaign will be marked by two big events on the Republican calendar, in the presence of Fresno county of Francis J. Heney, who is campaigning for Biram W. Johnson, and the big Needham meeting which will take place at the Barton next Saturday.

Francis J. Heney will address the voters of Coalinga next Wednesday night. elaborate preparations are being made for his reception and the people of the oil city are making ready to hold the largest political meeting ever called in order in that city. The presence of Francis Heney in Coalinga on Wednesday will be the signal for a large exodus of Fresno people to that place to hear him. The former assessor and district attorney of San Francisco in the great prosecution is an exceedingly forcible speaker, and the announcement of his coming has attracted widespread interest.

Mr. Heney will visit four towns in the northern part of the San Joaquin valley this week. He will speak at Tulare, Visalia, Hanford and Coalinga.

Arrangements are under way for the big Needham meeting to be held at the Barton next Saturday night. This meeting will mark the close of the Republican campaign for 1910 in Fresno county. Charles S. Wheeler, the acknowledged leader of the San Francisco bar and one of the leaders of the California bar, will deliver an address on the political issues. Congressman Needham will speak on congressional matters which are of vital importance to the people of this section, with which he is thoroughly familiar.

The Republican legislative and county candidates will meet tonight in Temperance colony, and it is expected that the meeting will be a large one. Tomorrow night they will meet in Scandinavian colony, where another reception has been planned for them.
